The Intercampus Program in Communicative Disorders

The University of Kansas

We appreciate your interest in the Intercampus Program in Communicative Disorders (IPCD) at The University of Kansas. Our program has been recognized nationally as one of the outstanding programs in speech-language pathology and audiology. We offer state of the art research and clinical opportunities at the Masters and Doctoral levels. Our Intercampus program combines faculty expertise from the campus in Lawrence, Kansas, and the KU Medical Center in Kansas City, Kansas. We value diversity in our student body and seek individuals that will become leaders in the profession. We hope you will have an opportunity to visit our campuses to learn more about our program. Please let us know if we can be of assistance in arranging a visit.

When to Apply

Your application for admission and transcripts should be submitted to the IPCD admission secretary no later than:

- ☞ January 15 for Fall semester admission with notification on or about April 1
- ☞ October 1 for Spring semester admission with notification on or about December 1

Applications received after these dates will be reviewed only if space is available. Occasionally, as resources permit, Speech students may be admitted in the Spring or Summer term. The AuD program only admits students for the Fall semester. This application is designed for prospective graduate students who intend to enroll for more than one session.

Although an undergraduate degree in Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology is not required, applicants should have 12 hours of basic sciences and mathematics, in addition to prerequisite courses within the major or speech-language pathology and audiology. These prerequisites should have been completed within the past ten years. Exceptions to this policy may be made when deemed appropriate by the Admissions Committee.

How Your Application Will Be Processed

The IPCD Admissions Committee will review your application for admission and make a recommendation to the Graduate School where the final processing occurs. Evaluation is based principally on academic, research and clinical achievement/potential, including evidence from extra-curricular activities. Partially complete applications may be considered, but complete applications will be given priority. Applicants will be notified of their status by December 1st for entry in Spring and by April 1st for entry in Fall. All materials submitted for admission become the property of the University and are not returnable or transferable. Decisions made by the committee are final.
